

ANDREW J. JUNKER

Associate

Andrew Junker has represented clients in complex matters at all stages of litigation, from pleadings to discovery, trial, and appeal. His experience extends to a number of legal fields, including complex commercial disputes, intellectual property and trade secrets, class actions, and white collar defense.

Prior to joining Jones Day in 2017, Andrew practiced in Los Angeles, where he served as trial counsel in a successful patent jury trial, obtaining favorable infringement and validity verdicts as to all asserted claims. He also achieved dismissal of all felony charges against a subsidiary of a Fortune 250 company in a criminal matter involving allegations of conspiracy, false statements, and violation of the Clean Water Act.

PRACTICES

Business & Tort Litigation

LOCATIONS

Dallas

EDUCATION

University of Michigan (J.D. magna cum laude 2014; Contributing Editor, Michigan Law Review);
University of Dallas (B.A. in English cum laude 2006)

BAR & COURT ADMISSIONS

Texas, California, and U.S. District Court for the Northern District of California

CLERKSHIPS

Law Clerk to Judge Diane S. Sykes, U.S. Court of Appeals, Seventh Circuit (2016-2017)
