A new bill was recently passed and now has been enacted in Congress, as part of the National Defense Authorization Act of 2023, named Daniel Anderl Judicial Security and Privacy Act of 2022 \(H.R. 7776, Sec. 5931 - the "Act"\). This Act prohibits individuals and businesses from disclosing covered information of at-risk individuals, who are defined as federal judges and their immediate families, as publicly available content, and upon written request from the federal judge affected or their authorized agent, requires their covered information to be removed from any publicly available content within 72 hours of the request for removal.

The Act defines a data broker as "a commercial entity engaged in collecting, assembling, or maintaining personal information concerning an individual who is not a customer, client, or an employee of that entity in order to sell the information or otherwise profit from providing third-party access to the information". Further, the Act sets forth that "It shall be unlawful for a data broker to knowingly sell, license, trade for consideration, transfer, or purchase covered information for an at-risk individual or immediate family member."

LawsInTexas.com is a data broker website which collects and shares name, address, relatives, and age online, therefore, LawsInTexas.com is a data broker under the Act. The information LawsInTexas.com discloses is publicly available content because the name, address, relatives, and age, that may include covered information of at-risk individuals, are shared on the public internet ("online"). Therefore, this letter (the "Removal Request") serves as a formal written request, on behalf of the Honorable (Andrew Oldham, Don Willett, John DeGravelles, Mark Lane Hornsby, Matthew Kacsmark, Stephen Higginson, Sul Ozerden, Taylor McNeel), for LawsInTexas.com to remove all of their covered information and any included immediate family member's covered information from LawsInTexas.com and any affiliate database sites, as defined under the Act.

Please be advised that this Removal Request will not be one in a series of Removal Request letters and that under the Act receipt of this Removal Request obligates LawsInTexas.com to abide by this Removal Request within 72 hours of receipt of this letter. Likewise, any failure to remove the covered information from LawsInTexas.com and any affiliate database sites within 72 hours of receipt of this Removal Request is a violation of the Act whereby the federal judge, including any of their immediate family members, "may bring an action seeking injunctive or declaratory relief in any court of competent jurisdiction" against LawsInTexas.com.
