ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Former Judge King Fifer presided over Dallas County Court at Law No. 2 from January 2007 until January 2018. He oversaw more than 300 jury trials, some resulting in multi-million-dollar verdicts, and more than a thousand bench trials. He was named Trial Judge of the Year by the Dallas chapter of the American Board of Trial Advocates in 2009. As judge, King supervised the resolution of disputes arising in the real estate, manufacturing, oil and gas, healthcare, computer technology, construction, retail sales, and insurance industries. He presided over many trials involving complex business litigation matters, including breach of contract, professional malpractice, fraud, partnership dissolution, violations of fiduciary duties, breach of non-compete covenants, theft of trade secrets, and employment-related issues. Prior to taking the bench, King had an active state and federal trial practice representing both plaintiffs and defendants in personal injury litigation ranging from simple negligence to medical malpractice and complex product liability matters. He also has considerable experience representing design professionals, including architects and engineers, and other individuals involved in construction litigation.
